

UCLA Investment Company

Breanne Eshelman, Esq., CFA, CQF Investment Director

Breanne Eshelman is an Investment Director at the UCLA Investment Company. Mrs. Eshelman is responsible for overseeing endowment assets across global markets, with a specific focus on marketables and private credit portfolios.

Mrs. Eshelman has 13+ years of investment management and capital markets experience. Prior to UCLA, Mrs. Eshelman was an Associate Director at PAAMCO, an investment firm delivering fund of funds and alternative investment solutions to institutional clients. Throughout her career at PAAMCO, Mrs. Eshelman conducted research, due diligence and risk monitoring for managers across all hedge fund strategies, and served as a portfolio manager and account manager for select corporate pension clients. Prior to that, Mrs. Eshelman worked at Morgan Stanley in London where she managed risk on a portfolio of commercial mortgage debt and securities. Mrs. Eshelman began her career at Countrywide Commercial Real Estate Finance where she focused on commercial loan origination, underwriting and securitization.

Mrs. Eshelman received her Juris Doctorate from Northwestern University Pritzker School of Law, her MBA from Northwestern University Kellogg School of Management, and her BS in Business Administration from California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo. She is admitted to the Bar in California and holds the Chartered Financial Analyst® designation.