

Deborah is a Managing Director in Cambridge Associates' Arlington office. She specializes in manager research for U.S. and Canadian equities, 130/30 hedge funds, index funds and alternative beta. Deborah has been highly involved in Cambridge Associates' expanded research into Women & Minority managers and is the lead for Gender Lens investing.

Recently Deborah interviewed Sallie Krawcheck, the CEO of Ellevest, at a Gender Lens Investing forum. And last year Deborah published a paper titled: "Gender Lens Investing - Impact Opportunities Through Gender Equity"

Deborah has appeared on conference panels covering the topics of Women in Investing, Women & Minority managers, ESG Investing, and Gender Lens Investing. Deborah is also an Ambassador for Girls Who Invest.

Prior to rejoining Cambridge Associates in 2011, Deborah co-founded Great Oak Investment Management. As Director of Research and Chief Compliance Officer, Deborah oversaw the firm's research efforts on small-cap equities and managed the firm's compliance program. Before starting her own firm, she was a research consultant at Cambridge Associates, where she identified and monitored equity managers and funds. In addition, she was an associate at Willamette Management Associates, where she valued small businesses.
